

Winn-Dixie Gets Blue Law Charge

A hearing is scheduled before Beat 5 Justice of the Peace Russell Elliott at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday for employees of Winn-Dixie Food Store on U. S. 90 who were arrested last Sunday morning and charged with violating Mississippi's blue law.

The store was closed about 12:30 p.m. after sheriff's deputies arrested 16 employees on charges of being in violation of Section 2369 of the State Code of 1946 which bans sale of most merchandise on Sunday.

All posted $50 cash appearance bond Sunday to appear before Beat 5 Justice of the Peace Russell Elliott at 7 p.m. Tuesday but Elliott announced Monday that at the request of attorneys representing Winn-Dixie and Charles E. Carter, proprietor of Carter's IGA, who signed the affidavits, the hearing was postponed until Tuesday, July 12, at 10:30 a.m. A spokesman for Winn-Dixie said the firm of Gex and Gex, attorneys, had been tentatively retained by his firm but Carter would not reveal whether he had employed an attorney.

Sheriff Gerald V. Price sr. said the affidavits were made by Carter and that he had no choice but to serve them. He said he did not approve of the action and would not close any other stores unless forced by affidavits of citizens, adding that his staff was busy handling criminal and other matters and would have to be increased to handle such cases.

Deputies Norvin Penrose and Pete Noto arrested Joseph Kersanac early Sunday. He was brought to the sheriff's office where he immediately posted ap-

In Waveland Sparks Flare At Town Meet

Water and an expense allowance for the mayor were the main issues before Waveland's Town Council Tuesday night.

W. R. Gordon of Beach Blvd. and a representative of Tennessee Gas Transmission Co., L. J. Schooler, brought up the water issue.

Alderman Dominick Sonder moved to give the mayor an expense allowance of $50 per month, $30 to be paid by the town and $20 by the municipal gas and water system. He explained that every mayor on the Mississippi Coast received some such allowance.

Alderman Albert Grass seconded his motion. The motion was defeated when Aldermen William Ruhl and Anthony Bourgeois voted "nay", the mayor holding he was unable to break the tie vote since the motion involved him and finances. Bourgeois explained that he would vote for the allowance only if the alderman received the same. After a n exchange of words with Bourgeois Sonder asked Clerk C. O. Dufour to check the town's charter to ascertain if there was any limit on the number of meetings an alderman could miss before being disqualified from serving.

Schooler suggested that the town's water system was inadequate in design and that council should, as a health measure, take over the privately owned water system serving the residents of Gulf Gardens. His company owns several houses in Waveland, including one in Gulf Gardens, which they furnish their employees. He pointed to his company's taxes in the county, that one industry's experience in a community would influence other businesses and volunteered that his company would do what it could for better water in Waveland, including helping with the work involved.

Members of council expressed sympathy with Schooler's position, but suggested that the large population increase in summer plus the current drought were partly responsible and furthermore that Waveland had limited funds with which to improve the water system. Where Gulf Gardens subdivision was concerned Mayor Garfield Lerner told Schooler, who had complained at the town's delay in taking over that area's private water system, that so far the corporation owning the property had not been able to furnish the town a fee simple title to the system because of an earlier deed to part of the property on which the system is located. At its June 7 meeting the council had tentatively accepted an offer made by James C. De Blanc, representing Modern Homes, Inc., developers of Gulf Gardens, for the purchase of the company's water system.

While no final decision was made, it appeared that funds being available, council would

Jaycee Sales Near Goal for Building Bonds

Jaycee building bond sales passed the $2,500 mark this week, according to Harold Saucier, building committee chairman. Less than $1,000 remains to be sold with the Miss Bay St. Louis Pageant, which grossed in excess of $1,500, apparently giving a boost to the bond sales. Total receipts already exceed $500.

The act of sale of the building is expected to be passed within 10 days, and Gerald Gex, attorney for the group, is preparing the necessary papers.

The Jaycees issued $3,500 in building bonds to purchase the Moreau Building at 201 North Beach and plan to use the upper floor of the two story brick building as a Jaycee home. Plans include development of the beach area lying in front of the building in coordination with owners of the water lots.

Firecracker Hits Back of Man's Head

A New Orleans man was hit in the back of the head with a firecracker while driving on Beach Boulevard between Waveland Avenue and St. Clare's Church about midnight Sunday, according to Town Marshal Fred Bourgeois who said he is continuing an investigation of the matter.

Gay Drew, who was visiting relatives in Waveland, was given emergency treatment at Hancock General Hospital.

Cuevas Takes On Mail Route

L. C. Cuevas of Logtown, successful bidder for the motor route of the Bay St. Louis Postoffice which extends from here to the Logtown-Pearlington area, took over operation of the service July 1. Postmaster Andrew Becker has announced.

Cuevas offered a price of $2,757 to handle the run. Anna Marie LaFontaine previously had the contract for the route.

A city the size of Bay St. Louis (approximately 5,200 according to unofficial 1960 census figures) could then expect the per capita assessment to be $532.86, with additional charges for water meters, etc.

One of the businessmen present posed the question of how the council intended to sell the project to the citizens.

"People might feel that they are gaining nothing personally," said Dave McDonald, "and would hesitate to vote for a bond issue that would impose such a heavy debt and give them apparently nothing more than they had previously."

Mayor John Scalfie reminded that the water situation in Bay St. Louis is pathetic and repeated the staggering figures of the city's daily water consumption. Installation of water meters would certainly conserve water and consequently make the sewerage system possible. The city's fire insurance rates are

Along the talent line, Marsha Blaise sang "Birth of the Blues," a song and dance number to "Gimme a Little Kiss" was presented by Barbara Kidd, and Miss Johnson did a number from South Pacific, "Wonderful Guy."

Car Overtakes, Driver Unhurt

No injuries resulted from a one-car accident Sunday night when a car driven by a New Orleans man went out of control and skidded on its top on Waveland Avenue near U. S. 90.

Deputy Sheriff Robert H. Coleman said he received a call at 10:20 p.m., and after arriving at the scene a few minutes later found a Chevrolet station wagon resting on its top on the north side of U. S. 90 at the intersection of Waveland Avenue. It bore Louisiana license tag 781-911 and was owned by Robert N. McCracken who was driving alone.

Coleman said McCracken told him he was driving north on

School Board Told Bus Cost Ranks 2nd

Per pupil cost of transportation in Hancock County is the second highest of any school district in Mississippi, the county board of education learned at its meeting Tuesday afternoon. The 1958-59 ticket was $50.94.

J. M. Thatch, assistant director of the school buildings and transportation division, State Department of Education, urged trustees to make every effort to purchase some new buses as the best means of reducing operating costs.

He also expressed skepticism that the department would approve the board's plans to let four privately contracted routes for North Central School requiring new equipment, noting that state law is designed to get the school districts to have their own buses. He noted that school boards can buy the equipment cheaper than private individuals. Bids on the bus routes are to be received at 9 a.m. Saturday and Thatch asked the board to clear with the attorney-general's office before letting someone put his money into a new bus.

An increase of $344,696 in county real and personal assessments over last year was reported by Tax Assessor George E. Heitzmann at the regular July meeting of the Board of Supervisors Tuesday. He said about 99 per cent of the increase represented new construction.

New assessment of real property amounts to $8,395,988, an increase of $290,335. Personal property is assessed at $441,097, an increase of $54,335. Heitzmann said the figures did not include assessments on public utilities or automobiles; that state officials would assess such installations as the Tennessee Gas Co. in Ansley and vehicle assessments would not be available until after December. There will be a substantial increase in both real and personal assessments over previous years, he said, adding that the assessment on public utilities will probably exceed $2 million.

The board accepted the rolls and will equalize and correct any errors or omissions. The public will be notified through newspaper publication that the rolls are open for inspection and the board will remain in session from day to day to hear any complaints or requests for reductions in assessments.

Bid of Southern Equipment Sales, Inc., Jackson, of $18,193 for a dragline to be used in Beat 3 was accepted. Allied Equipment Company of Jackson bid $20,297. The bids had been advertised to be opened last month but were held over for acceptance. Motion was by Charles Lavinghouse, seconded by James Neelace.

Wayne Alliston, sanitarian of the county health department, told members a replacement of Dr. James T. Maddux, health officer who resigned to pursue his studies, had not been found as yet. Dr. J. A. Milne of Jackson, state director of county health units, said a health officer must have three years training in department work and the department was doing its best to find a man for the job. Members suggested that a young man be appointed and recommended that the same set-up as in the past, operating in conjunction with Pearl River County, noting that throughout the state it was common practice for two counties to tie up in health department operations.

Dr. Milne explained the starting salary of a health officer is $8,600 but it equalled about $23,000 in private practice after the cost of a nurse, rent and other operating expenses were deducted.

A letter was read from Mrs. David Poindester, president of the League of Women Voters.

Oyster Planting Due Here

Planting of 9,000 barrels of oysters in the Bay of St. Louis north of the railroad bridge is scheduled to begin at 8 a.m. Friday by the Mississippi Marine Conservation Commission, Dan M. Russell Jr., attorney for the commission, said today.

Russell and commissioners Joseph V. Colson, Lloyd Lader and Alden Mauffray attended a meeting of the commission in Biloxi Wednesday night where final plans for the planting were made. About 15,000 barrels have already been planted in Harrison County waters. Barrels loaded with oysters were scheduled to arrive in the Bay today but actual planting will not begin until Friday. They will be up in the vicinity of Bay-Waveland Yacht Club. A state biologist will be present to aid in selecting locations.

Colson said benefit from the planting will be had this year and oysters would probably be gathered in the fall. He said also that it would be a boon for fishermen as trout and other species will feed on the reefs and that it would attract shrimp. He pointed out that no traveling, commercial or sport, is authorize laying of pipe connecting two mains serving Vacation Lane and two serving the Jeff's subdivision area. Both Mayor Lader, who is also head of the town's water and gas systems, and Wallace Bourgeois an employee of the system, expressed the belief this would increase pressure for those served in those areas. The laying of about 1,800 feet of pipe is involved.

In relatively minor matters council authorized a 35-gallon of gas allowance to tax assessor, C. O. Dufour, to recompense him for travel necessary to his office, rental of the town-owned trench digger, by Mayor Lader; installation of a light at the municipal party; employment by the mayor of someone to assist Town Marshal Fred Bourgeois in controlling traffic on weekends; purchase of a bushhog (grass cutter) for use with the town's tractors and an expense account for the mayor to appear at the hearing July 12 before the Federal Power Commission on the request hike in the price of natural gas to

Mrs. Dublin Feted Before Trip Abroad

Miss Clara Duprat of Clermont Harbor entertained Thursday at a bon voyage party for Mrs. Charles Dublin of Waveland who will leave shortly for a tour of Europe.

Waveland by United Gas Transmission Co., the town's supplier. Grass brought up the question of advertising signs placed on the town's property to which fronting property owners objected and it was finally agreed the mayor would contact the advertiser and have the signs removed.

Sanier reminded council of its responsibility as a body to approve or disapprove assessments and that the fact that property was in one ward did not give that ward member any special prerogative, and the mayor urged all members to be present at all meetings. At council's last meeting two members were absent and at the preceding meeting three were not present, leaving the council without a quorum.

In other action last night the commission voted unanimously to close certain areas in the Biloxi vicinity for 10 days to shrimpers. Reason was that the shrimp were too small, averaging 79 to 84 to the pound while the legal minimum count is 68. Russell said he is preparing the ordinance for the commission. He commented that the commission is doing a fine job.

It was also announced that Gov. Ross Barnett had named George Williams of Biloxi as chief inspector of the state commission and Claude Moody, Pascagoula, assistant inspector. Appointment of the inspector had caused considerable controversy among seafood men and sport fishermen. Williams was former president of the Oystermen's and Shrimpers' Association on the Coast. The appointments are subject to confirmation by the state Senate at the 1962 session. The appointees will have authority over hiring and dismissal of commission personnel without interference from the commission. They can only be removed upon a hearing before the governor.

BUSY REFRIGERATOR

Has your refrigerator seemed to be running too much lately? More than it used to?

The reason could be that the condenser is dirty. When was the last time you cleaned it? It should be cleaned once or twice a year with a long handled brush or vacuum cleaner.

Check your refrigerator, some have the condenser at the top; others at the bottom. If necessary, pull your refrigerator out from the wall.

A word of caution: Always disconnect your refrigerator before you clean the condensers. Another reason for your refrigerator running too much may be too much hot food in it. Be

42 Attend Sessions of Shoulda Gone Fishin' Girl Scout Day Camp

BY EDDIE ENGELHORN

Forty-two Bay St. Louis Girl Scouts and Brownies of District 3, Gulf Pines Council, participated in the day camp last week at the St. James Major Church site.

The program opened each day with the raising of the colors. Girls enjoyed nature study, making leaf booklets, terrariums and wooden buttons sawed from native woods under the direction of Mrs. Birch Bankston sr., of Clermont Harbor. The stream winding through the wooded property was used for wading and collecting items for the terrariums.

Two cookouts were held and the girls brought lunches the other days. There was the seven basic camping skills and girls worked on setting up campcraft kitchens, lashing, learning knots, cooking one-pot meals, simple first aid and the like.

Two girls were selected from each unit to form a camp council and planned programs for the last day. Serving were Sharon Walters, Ellen Simms, Unit 1, Cheyenne; Martha Lynch and Mary LaGarde, Unit 2, Running Water; and Mimi Monti and Jan Osolnach, Unit 3, Sitting Bull.

Unit leaders were Mesdames J. W. Clark, Vicki Becker and John Simms. Program aides were the Misses Kathy Clark, Ann Clark and Edith Traub with Mesdames O. H. Mollere, M. A. Phillips and William Pittman as nurses. Mrs. Phillips also assisted in a unit for a day.

The staff included Mrs. Bankston, craft consultant, assisted by Mrs. Pittman; Mrs. Phoebe Jones, director; Mrs. F. C. Shippey, chairman and business manager; Mrs. C. C. McDonald sr., staff chairman; Mrs. James Ansley, registrar, and Mrs. J. B. Goldman, program chairman.

A watermelon party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Koch at Koch Ranch near Cuevas on the last day.

K. G. McCarty was in charge of transportation with county school buses leaving daily from Bay High School with the campers.

Attendance averaged 98 per cent daily. Campers were Brownies: Susanne Ashman, Barbara Burch, Jennie Burge, Eleanor Turnipseed, Allyson Holmes, Helen Johnson, Sandra Miller, Marilyn McDonald, Tamar Osolnach, Wendy McDonald, Marianne Smith, Ellen Simms, Sharon Walters, Susan Ferry. Intermediates were (Ellen Western, Jennifer Rutherford, Della Faye Shiyov, Becky Prevou, Sandra Gayant, Martha Lynch, Ann Morlan, Mary Legarde, Beverly Stechmann, Laura Piazza, Susan Simms, Linda Koch, Pamela Pfeiffer, Valda Pittman, Kathleen Maloney, Karen Bilbo, Mimi Monti, Mildred Church, Mary Toni Lader, Fahey di Benedetto, Han Osolnach, Susan Clark, Edna Aggie Bourgeois and Becky Adams.

Big news in the fishing world this week of course was the Deep Sea Fishing Rodeo in Gulfport that attracted about 2,500 anglers from all over including a large number from the Bay area.

Robert S. Maloney of Waveland, son of Paul Maloney jr., was one of the stars of the show hauling in an 18-pound three-tail black fish to establish a new record. Former record was a 17-pound, 12 ounce one caught by C. A. Kendall of Pass Christian in 1958.

Another beauty was the record-breaking nine-pound, 13 oz. green trout caught by Herbert Hickman of Wiggins. Biggest fish ever registered in the rodeo was a 555-pound manta ray caught by Jim Kelly of Gulfport and that's a lot of ray.

Fishing has been spotty, probably due to lack of rain, the heat and unfavorable tides. Many local anglers didn't wet their lines over the July 4 weekend, as one put it, "all you could catch was people." The water is salty far up the Jordan and fish are fairly well scattered. Live and dead bait are plentiful.

Brewster Mollere says he doesn't fish in this kind of weather. "Too hot. Reports he went to the Marine Life show in Gulfport during the weekend and was particularly impressed with the menhaden exhibition. Said there were so many swimming around it reminded him of tinzel.

Jimmie Latroux likes to fish when he goes fishing, daughter Jeanne says; he doesn't want to mess around but fishing in the rodeo over the weekend every time he got his line set somebody in the party wanted to move, they didn't get anything to enter in the rodeo.

Capt. Louis Demoran had an unfortunate fishing trip Sunday. He and Eddie Blaise went to Bayou Caddy and found the boat they had intended to use full of water. After hauling for some time and caulking the cracks they decided to go home the back way and got a smashed fender when another car came out of a side road. Total results of the trip, $20 plus costs. Louis says he will appeal.

Lloyd Lader had an unusual specimen Wednesday, a small flounder black on both sides, he said. Not kidding, I hope, Slim.

On vacation is Joe Glover, brother of Cyril, Joe and Wop, another brother, tried Half Moon Saturday but the fish wouldn't cooperate. Joe said they tried everything including live shrimp to no avail. Trouble could have been a 30-mile wind, he said. "It was really rough," Joe said.

A four and a half pound flounder was one of the beauties A. G. Dantagan brought in early this week. Got him by the shell pile in front of the Legion Home.

Speaking of the shell pile reminds us of a trip some years ago with our two boys. We had been out to the Keys and all the supposedly hot spots out front with live bait but no luck. On the way in we decided to try the shell pile but being out of bait we used cut croakers. First kill was by Donald who battled a 10-pound red for about 15 minutes before he got it. We had eight more in an hour we had eight reds weighing a total of about 60 pounds. Moral is same as in the Acres of Diamonds story, look in your back yard first.

Bob Torgersen reports the northwest wind has messed up fishing somewhat around his area but sure has been good for sleeping. Says he saw a catch of about 300 specks caught in Three Mile Bayou in the marshes but there were a lot of small ones. Hasn't been out in three weeks he said but did sneak off last month for a few days and got 500 pounds in the marshes. Says he got fed nothing but fish for a few weeks.

Bill Gaudet was seen with a good catch of specks caught Sunday morning and supplied his friends with the surplus.

Eleven people were disappointed Sunday when Emilio Piazza spotted a weak spot in brother Bernie's boat and their fishing-boating-picnic trip had to be called off. They were all loaded and ready to go.

A. C. and Marjorie Mitchell spent the weekend at their home on the Jordan but didn't fish. Also spent some time with the Ray Stewarts.

Just to keep the records straight - went boating Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Boss and the three little red heads. Went swimming off the boat and Mr. Boss said our age was showing when we tried to climb back aboard. Wasn't that at all we were just exhausted from trying to keep our trunks from slipping every time we tried to haul ourselves aboard. The elastic belt was worn out from years of abuse, not us.

Coast to Coast Gal Cyclist Stops at Kiln

Cross-country traveling by foot, bicycle, or motor scooter seems to be the fashion these days, and Hancock County hasn't been by-passed.

A 23-year old student, Elizabeth Pond, is motoring from the Atlantic to Pacific coast, and she stopped briefly in Kiln, the other day.

James Watson of U. S. 90 and a friend, Cyril Cuevas, were standing on a street corner in Kiln when this young lady rode up on her motor scooter, in the conversation that followed they learned that she was on her way to the Democratic Convention in Los Angeles, and that she was working her way across the country.

"Whenever I run out of money," she said, "I stop and work a while." She had just completed a job for two weeks as a secretary in Atlanta, Ga. Her baggage included a sleeping bag and tote bags, a typewriter, three dresses, 13 books, and a toothbrush holder Scotch-taped to the windshield for holding flowers!

Miss Pond received her B. A. from Principia College in Illinois. She has also worked for the Christian Science Monitor, and has done some free lance reporting on the side.

Her first impressions of the South?

"I love it," she said, especially hushpuppies."

Frank E. Ladner

Funeral services for Frank E. Ladner will be 10 a.m. Friday from the Church of the Annunciation of Kiln.

Mr. Ladner, 66, died Tuesday afternoon at Piquette, besides his widow, Mrs. Agnes Ladner, Kiln, survivors include five sons, Howard F. Ladner, Gulfport, Robert F. Ladner, Biloxi, Waveland, Michael Ladner, Gulfport, Donald Ladner, Biloxi, and Clyde F. Ladner, Jackson; two sisters of Pass Christian, nine grandchildren, and two brothers, L. M. Ladner and Horace Ladner, both of Pass Christian.

The body was taken to McDonald Funeral Home in Piquette and transferred to the home at Kiln. Interment will be in Bayou Coco Cemetery.

appearance bond of $50. Later warrants were issued for the other 15 employees and a total of $800 was posted by Kersanac to cover their bonds.

Second arrests were made by Penrose and Beat 5 Constable Arthur J. Garcia.

The employees held were Susan Favre, Julian Necaise, Barney Necaise, Bonnie Necaise, Phillip Seals, Bobbie Thomas, Richard Morreale, Glen Higgins, Nolan Kingston Jr., Albert Strong, Wayne Thomas, Greg Necaise, Jimmie Chiniche, Dewey Robinson and Robert Perkins.

Elliott said the law, known as the Sabbath Law, states in essence that it is unlawful to sell, display, trade or barter merchandise, goods, ware or chattel on Sunday but does not apply to druggists in the sale of medicine or drugs. The maximum fine is $25 on each count under the law, he said. Trial will be held in the Courthouse.

A Winn-Dixie employee was stationed in front of the store Sunday to inform customers of the closing.

Kersanac said Sunday operation is not contemplated this week.

Moccasin Bites Girl in Yard

A young Waveland resident was bitten on the foot Sunday night, June 26, in her own yard by a moccasin, presumably a cotton-mouth.

Susan Hanches, 15, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hanches was walking through the short grass in her front yard about 8 p.m. when her father said he heard her cry that she had been bitten by a snake.

Two neighbor children saw the snake crawl beneath the Hanches' car and reported that it was some kind of moccasin.

Dr. Hanches immediately applied a tourniquet and suction to the wound. Dr. A. K. Martinolich was called to the scene, and Miss Hanches was rushed to Hancock General Hospital. Dr. Martinolich administered anti-biotic serum and continued to apply the tourniquet.

According to Dr. Hanches, the area around the wound and the entire foot became blue and swollen and was very painful for about two or three days.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Santo V. Rosato, a boy born June 29 at Hancock General Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Guy Trudell, a boy born June 30, Hancock General Hospital.
